

Professor Emeritus of Geology at Western Washington University, exposes how the data has been tampered with (by NASA, NOAA and the National Science Foundation). He points out that:

- all high temperature records were set in 1930s before the rise of CO<sub>2</sub>;
- global cooling has been in effect since 1998, according to ground and satellite measurements;
- both the Arctic and Antarctic ice sheets are growing;
- CO<sub>2</sub> is incapable of causing global warming (given that it constitutes 38/1000th of 1 percent of atmospheric gases);
- there is no correlation between CO<sub>2</sub> and temperature;
- CO<sub>2</sub> follows temperature rather than preceding or causing it;
- the sea level is rising (Seattle in specific) and falling (US Pacific Northwest in general) depending on where you are, and that the sea is rising at a very slow and constant rate;
- extreme weather (such as hurricanes) has not increased;
- snowfall has increased across the US; and
- that the oceans are still very alkaline (pH 8.2) not acidic.

Meteorologist and physicist Piers Corby claims the world is cooling. He states outright that “there is no such thing as manmade climate change”. He also states that “the truth is the IPCC of the UN is a political not a scientific body, and it even amends scientific documents before publication to conform to diplomatic niceties.”

Over 30,000 scientists say 'Catastrophic Man-Made Global Warming' is a complete hoax and science lie

Global warming debunked: NASA report verifies carbon dioxide actually cools atmosphere

NASA's Langley Research Center. As it turns out, all those atmospheric greenhouse gases that Al Gore and all the other global warming hoaxers have long claimed are overheating and destroying our planet are actually cooling it, based on the latest evidence
